POETRY.

INCONSTANCY. BY JOSEPH RODMAN DRAKE.

Yes! I swore to be true, I allow, And I meant it, but, some how or other, The seal of that amorous vow Was pressed on the lips of another.

Yet I did but as all would have done, For where is the being, dear cousin, Content with the beauties of one When he might have the range of a dozen?

Young Love is a changeable boy, And the gem of the sea-rock is like him, For he gives back the beams of his joy To each sunny eye that may strike him.

From a kiss of a zephyr and rose Love sprang in an exquisite hour, And fleeting and sweet, heaven knows, Is this child of a sigh and a flower.

Pleasant Associates .- The Rev. Mr Malcom, thus describes the pleasant society which he found on board one of the East India craft, in which he lately took a passage " My little cutter is superior in nearly all respects to the Burman vessels, which I expect generally to sail in from place to place. I can stand up in the cabin, while in those one can only sit, and that on the floor. I have a little quarter deck, which they know nothing of. And in case of danger, we have an iron anchor, while theirs is but a piece of wood, shaped like a fish-hook. On the score of insects, too, I am informed that my condition is far better. In the latter point, however, I can by no means boast. Hundreds of ants, great and small, black and red. move in endless files every where. Cockroaches flying and THE most safe, effectual and economical remedy for disea-ses of the Human Constitution, that has ever been disabout me, all night, but through mercy they do not bite, and are, withal, quite shy when there is a light burning, These Pills are composed entirely of materials extracted from Medical Plants, and are warranted not to contain one particle of mercury, or any mineral substance. Dr Kingley, the inventor of this valuable medicine, from his knowledge of the inventor of this valuable medicine, from his knowledge of the Human System, derived from a long and extensive practice, has arrived to the conclusion, that the great and primary tice, has arrived to the conclusion, that the great and primary cause of most diseases is a derangement in the functions of cause of most diseases is a derangement in the functions of cause of most diseases is a derangement in the functions of the liver; or, in other words, an increased or diminished secretion of the Bile.

So well is links understood, that it is common for persons to say when they feel unwell, that they are bilious, meaning struggling, as if his would go through the skin. The spistruggling, as if his would go through they kept me, that they have too much bile in the stomach. On the other that they have too much bile in the stomach. FRIDAY, MARCH 17, 1837.

BATTLE OF SAN JACINTO-SANTA ANA. Extract of a Letter from a Texan Volunteer, from Massachusetts.

"Shortly after the delivery of Austin's speech, on the resources of Texas, happened the battle of San Jacinto. On marching from Buffaloe Bayon to attack the enemy, there were 750 of us; two hundred being left for the protection of the camp and baggage. On the 19th April a ery ran from squad to squad - the Mexicans are upon us. We were, at the time, encamped on Buffaloe Bayon, and engaged in preparing dinner. We sprang to our rifles; some of the companies were formed, when it was given out that the alarm was false. At this moment a horseman dashed by us for the general's quarters; another, slower, followed by a Mexican prisoner; this man proved to be a courier, and was taken with saddle-bags, full of letters. Upon examining him and them, the all-important information was derived, that Santa Ana, with a division of his army, was within 15 miles of us. Gen. Houston determined upon surprising him. On the ensuing day, our little band was marshalled and addressed in brief, but with spirit, by Gen Houston. The horses for the cavalry, the cannon and the men were got over the Bayon by five or six o'clock, evening. We commenced the march about dusk and continued it all night in the most profound and solemn silence. It reminded me of Washington crossing the Delaware at night, to make an attack upon the Hessians at Trenton. He was risking much, if not everything, at that most gloomy period of the revolution, in the descent upon Trenton. Thus it was with us. The brave Travis had fallen; the Georgia battalion was gone; the enemy had marched from point to point, till they had gained the very heart of the country; and it seemed as though Heaven willed that Santa Ana should make good his haughty menace- That he would drink the waters of the Sabine triumphant !' The movement was big with event, for the good or for the evil of Texas. All knew it; all felt it. We halted a little before day-break, and threw ourselves upon the Prairie for rest. In a short time the march was renewed, and while we were advancing over the plains, a prisoner was taken; he reported that Santa Ana was encamped in the neighboring timber, and was at the head of 3000 troops. Our position was taken on the banks of the Jacinto, and an effort made to bring on a battle, but in vain. Nevertheless, there was some skirmishing, and the artillery from both sides, thundered the live-long day. The grape shot of the enemy passed constantly over my head, rattling like heavy rain among the limbs of the trees. The following day was the eventul one in the history of Texas. The doings of that day can never be read or heard, without demonstrating what wonders a few brave men can work out. Gen Houston resolved upon attacking the enemy upon his own ground. We marched forth in four divisions, my own regiment and company being somewhere in the centre, when we deployed into line. Our movement at first, and which was very rapidly executed, was concealed by slightly rising ground. The moment we reached its height, we formed into line of double files; I may here remark, there was not a man in the line but was exposed to the enemy, and might have been shot down, had we been steadily resisted. The enemy were in arms, and their artillery poured forth vollies of shot and ball. We advanced upon the charge, at double quick step, with our artillery, till it was planted within 80 paces of the enemy's line. Its well-directed discharge soon silenced the foe; their right wing was broken by our riflemen; they fled-a panic ensued-nothing could withstand the ardor of our attack. We knew it was do or die; we had no reserve; if we lost the battle, we lost all-ourselves and Texas. The enemy in a short time was completely routed. We had conquered. We had partially revenged the scenes of the Alamo and Labahia; 500 and upwards, of the Mexicans we made to bite the ground. The battle-field was spread with the dead and dying; as they retreated, they jumped into the water of a lake that intercepted their flight, and attempted to swim across. We stood on the margin, and shot the devils into eternity by dispatching bullets through their heads, as sportsmen do ducks in the river-crying-REMEN-Santa Ana and Cos, for the time being, succeeded in escaping-the one was taken the next day; the other, who had run like an ostrich and quite reached the Brassos, was captured the day after. Gen. Houston's quarters were very near where I was. When, therefore, Santa Ana was brought in, as it was rumored that it was his own veritable august majesty, I followed to witness the coming scene. Gen. H. was lying on a blanket beneath the shade of a tree, his wounded leg covered with bandages. On being informed it was our General, Santa Ana, with considerable gesticulation, said in Spanish: 41 am Santa Ana, the President of the Mexican Republic; I surrender to a brave man." This self introduction was made with trepidation. In the course of the conversation, when he became more at ease, he humorously remarked: "Gen. Houston, I have been seeking you for six weeks; but you found me yesterday." I understand he had no bounds to his compliments, upon the spirit and bravery of our troops; that with ten thousand such men we could reduce all Mexico. As to his person, Santa Ana would make the finest Cassius that ever trod the stage; spare and straight in his frame; a man to all appearance strikingly calculated to endure hardship. He stands five feet, ten inches high; his face I did not fancy. He looked as I have seen Charles (Eaton) look in Richard upon the prostration of all his ambitious views. He had disguised himself, having shaven off his whiskers and mustachios, and arrayed himself in a coarse, thin blue jacket, and white pants of the meanest texture. Though I did not fancy his face, yet he had a fine head take it altogether; and, if I may judge from the contour of the upper part, must possess an uncommon volume of brain. The intellectual part is splendidly developed. His hair, originally black, is now much inclined to grey; be wore it short, showing a fine forehead entirely. A painting of Santa Ana, in full military costume, has lately been taken by an American artist; the representation of the face is pronounced exact. Doubtless, engravings will be made and stuck up at every bookseller's shop window in the States. Perhaps ere you receive this, if you ever receive it, you will have become familiar with the physiognomy of the man, who has played so distinguished a part in the drama of Mexican politics, whose fall from the Dictatorship is as sudden as it was merited. Before leaving the subject, as I wish to furnish you with some definite idea of the looks of this stupendous villain, I will remark, that his countenance is sallow, his blood is pure, unmixed Spanish. The Mexicans are more or less tawny; most of them of the copper color of Indians. As I think of it I may mention on the march, the file leader in line, was shot dead, the balls must be the consequence. The tariff-men, if they be wise, passing through his neck. The fact is, instead of 1100 Mexicans, they were 1500 strong in the action. Gen Cos arrived with a reinforcement the afternoon before. This Gen Cos is as mean looking a puppy as you ever laid eyes upon, and he is as despicable in character as he is mean in appearance. At the surrender of San Antonio to us, he gave his solumn parole of honor that he would not appear in arms again during the war. Such, my friead, is Mexican faith. 'Disce omnes ab uno.' "

Boston, March 15th, 1837.

CHARLES G. GREENE, Esq, Editor of the Boston Morning Post .- Dear Sir-In your paper of this morning I observed an editorial paragraph, referring to an article contained in a publication called the "Seaman's Journal," which very explicitly declared that I was present at Sylvester Graham's Lecture to Married Females, disguised in woman's dress.

I should, of course, never have taken notice of so ridiculously preposterous a fabrication, had it not been the fact, that a notice of it appeared in a paper of the rank and established character of the Post; a circumstance which has necessarily rendered a matter "prima facie" below contempt, worth comment.

Upon receiving by mail, a copy of the paper containing the assertion above alluded to, I placed it in the hands of my legal adviser, leaving it to his discretion, to use measures as his judgment might dictate.

Thus far, therefore, I have nothing to do with the matter. Justice to my family, and myself, however, imperatively demands that suitable notice should be taken of your remarks; particularly as you have suggested the propriety of such a course on my part.

I never, to the best of my knowledge, and belief, saw, or heard, SYLVESTER GRAHAM, in public or private, and have never in writing attacked him in any other way than over my own signature, or in public speech, save at the last annual meeting of the Mass. Medical Society. At that time, (in May last,) I did express very candidly my opinion of the moral tendency of his vile "Lecture to Young Men," and by reading with reluctance a revolting passage from that publication, occasioned a very general impression in the mind of that body, by no means favorable to Mr Graham. This impression was so strong, that even the reporter of the meeting, (who was by no means partial to my cause, if I may judge by two gratuitous, though witty pieces of classical blackguardism, in the notes to the trial,) could not refrain, in his report, from acknowledging the justice, and applicability, of the very plain terms employed by myself to describe Mr Graham's

Since that period, I have at intervals noticed Mr Graham's course, and, as a physician, as a conductor of the public press, as a well wisher of my fellow-creatures, as a husband and heretofore a father, I have solemnly cautioned parents and married persons from allowing their partners or their offspring to be initiated by this individual, into the knowledge of unutterable abominations.

I have reasoned from analogy-I have been from mere boyhood, practically and daily familiar with those arcana of the profession, which delicacy forbids to name; -and bere we have an itinerant pseudo preacher, coming forward to use language to our children, which even a professed obstetician would not use to a midwife in the sanctity of

If this man then will talk in public to our children in printed " Lecture to Young Men," what , I ask, must, by to Married Females!

I have never combated Graham's dietetie system, far ther than upon several occasions to observe, that if he thought he knew more than his Maker, or could set a better example than did his Redeemer, while on earth, I had no objection as to his saying so.

As yet, I cannot perceive the peculiar superiority of Mr Graham, when compared with the INCARNATE WORD, the execution of the plate most excellent. who, for violating Mr Graham's notions, eighteen bundred years ago, was by the Jews called "a glutton and a winebibber;" yet far be it from me to interfere in a monomania so harmless.

But when the sanctity of the nuptial chamber is violated, when the till now unheard of impulence of a man, not a physician, publicly announces a lecture to females, upon topics which are never alluded to even by professional men except in the course of that sacred intimacy, existing between the confidential family physician and the patient, it is time to speak out.

It is time that every husband and parent, and lover, and brother, should be apprized of the nature of this licensed pollution. Had Mr. Graham's obscene lectures not been fashionable, he would most assuredly, and deservedly have shared Dr Knowlton's punishment. The latter was imprisoned simply for pointing out in a scientific manner and Mr Graham walks off with flying colors, and edifies the prurient minds of our youth of either sex, by his commentaries on certain portions of the Pentateuch, which are unnecessary to specify.

It is a pity Mr Graham had not been an inhabitant of those cities of the plain, now covered by the Dead Sea, which were destroyed in the time of Lot. Their very peculiar customs must have been exactly adapted to his taste.

The subject matter has naturally induced me to address you more at length than I ought, but before concluding these remarks, I must observe, that upon my return to the city during a temp rary residence in Marblehead, I was informed from the most respectable authority, (the ladies, card to the contrary notwithstanding) that Graham did justify the apprehensions, which as I have said, every hus- thousand years, and a pair to count not less than 72,000,band should entertain, and that his language and proceedings were revolting to all whose fanaticism had not yet overpowered their sense of modesty, or even of common decency, if the truth must be told. It will be borne in mind that the eye as well as the ear was made the recipient of this lecture.

I have perhaps been tedious, but have spoken in sincerity, and with a certainty of the truth and justice of the pre-

The ridiculous libel which has called them forth, merits attention, as I in the first place remarked, solely from the circumstance of the allusion to it in a journal of deserved popularity and acknowledged respectability.

Few I believe, would ever imagine, that of all men, I needed obstetrical information from such a source as Graham's ! ctures; and netwithstanding the fact that I have my full share of enemies, (though for what, Heaven only knows) the first time that effeminacy of person or manner was ever attributed to me, is in the blackguard lie which has placed me in so absurd a position, as that which occasions his trespass on your patience.

Very respectfully and truly yours, JOHN S. BARTLETT, M. D.

We further make bold to tell those who advocate this movement, that, if the party organization is in any danger, it is from a partial action of a minority of the party's representatives. To bind the whole party, the whole party must have an equal voice. This is the very essence of democracy. It is the principle for which our fathers contended on Bunker Hill.

With the liberal subscriptions, Mr Forbes has been enabled to procure for his school, a very extensive apparatus -such an one as, probably, no college in our country possessed fifty years ago. His next object was, to establish a course of scientific lectures, for the benefit of a portion of sur population, who have hitherto been excluded from all nstitutions and all places in this city, where scientific intruction has been afforded so profusely to more favored classes. His plan was, to obtain gratuitous lectures from cientific gentlemen; and great success, thus far, has atended his efforts. The introductory lecture was delivered by George S. Hillard Esq. to a crowded audience. The performance was one that reflected great credit upon that centleman's high intellectual reputation. Since then, the haracter of the lectures has been well sustained, not lacking in talent or interest; and they have been attended by crowds of attentive and eager auditors. This information must give great satisfaction to the patrons of the project. Among those who have generously offered or kindly conented to deliver lectures gratuitously, are numbered some f the most highly distinguished literary and professional entlemen of the city and vicinity. The happy success nat has attended this enterprise, is but one of the numerous instances where the generosity of Boston has been exhibited. Whenever an appeal to the citizens of this place has been made, to promote any manifestly benevolent object, that appeal has never been made in vain. And if a com munity is made better, by dispensing knowledge and instructions to the ignorant, surely, not only the colored population, but the citizens generally, are under deep obligation to the indefatigable efforts of Mr Forbes-for he

A Dr Loveman's Gilead House. Price 50 cents per hottle.
Sold by appointment in Boston, at B. S. ROWLAND'S, 188

"Raze out the written troubles of the Brain, and with some sweet oblivious Antidote,
"Cleanse the foul Bosom of that perilous stuff which weighs upon the Heart."

Dr. LOVEMAN'S Balm of Gilead is universally acknowledged to be peculiarly efficacious in all inward wastings, loss of appetite, indigestion, depression of spirits, trembling or shaking of the hands or limbs, shortness of breath, and consumptive habits. It thins the blood, eases the most violent pain in the head and stomach, and promotes gentle perspiration. By the Medical Faculty this medicine is much admired being pleasant to the taste and smell, gently astringing the fibres of the stomach, and giving that proper tensity which a good digestion requires.

being pleasant to the taste and smell, gently astringing the fibres of the stomach, and giving that proper tensity which a good digestion requires.

Dr Loveman's Balm of Gilead is recommended to the weak, the relaxed, and debilitated, as an agreeable and speedy restorative; and considered as a cerdial, is essential to the comfort of ladies of fashion, being a preventive against cold, when taken before going out to parties, balls, routs or the play. It will enliven the spirits and invigorate the mind and body, and if taken after fatigue, it will with a few hours sleep, take away all languor consequent on broken rest, and give relief from every unpleasant sensation.

It is a most valuable remedy for such diseases as are attended with the following symptoms, namely—a great straitness of the breast, with difficulty of breathing—violent palpitations of the heart, sudden flasces of heat in various parts of the body—at other times a sense of cold, as if water was poured on them—flying pains in the arms and limbs, back and belly, resembling those occasioned by the gravel—the pulse very variable, sometimes uncommonly slow, at other times very quick—yawning, the hiccough, frequent sighing, and a sense of suffacation, as from a ball or lump in the throat—alternate fits of crying and convulsive laughing—the sleep unsound, and seldom refreshing, and the patient often troubled with horrid dreams. Much has been said by interested individuals against Medicines that are advertised, but there is a very important observation to be made respecting Dr Loveman's Balm of Gilead, that unless its operation was gentle safe and efficacious, it could not have obtained the unexampled demand it has acquired.

NERVOUS DEBILITY demand it has acquired.

NERVOUS DEBILITY

"Without Health we can enjoy no Fortune; Honors, Riches, and all other advontages are useless."

This Cordial has been uncommonly successful with young This Cordial has been uncommonly successful with young people who have the appearance and air of old age, who are pale, effeminate, benumbed, stupid, and even imbecile; whose bodies are become bent, whose legs are no longer able to carry them, who have an utter distaste for every thing, and are totally incapacitated. Where the stomach is frequently disordered, the body is weakened; paleness, bodily decay and emaciation succeed, and the eyes sink into the head. The virtues of Dr Loveman's Balm of Gileadure demonstrated, in oradicating the worst and most dangerous symptoms of nervous debility, and nothing has tended so much to establish the fame of this medicine, as its certain success in those complaints which strike their roots so deep in the constitution, and are so fatal to the happiness of mankind.

Dr Loveman's Balm of Gilead has risen in repute with every triaf of its efficacy. Some, perhaps, unacquainted with its or Loveman's Balm of Gliead has risen in repute with every triat of its efficacy. Some, perhaps, unacquainted with its virtues, not having perused the Guide to Nesith, may be induced to ask what is the Balm of Gliead good for? What complaint doth it cure?—To answer this it will be necessary to "Hold the Mirror up to Nature."

Let those who are afflicted in the following manner reflect on the cause that produced such havoc upon the "wholesome appetites and powers of life:"—disordered stomach, dry cough, weakness in the voice, hoarseness, shortness of breath upon the least exercise, and relaxation of the whole system. Those afflicted with paleness, languor of the eyes, weakness of sight or memory, should take time to consider Linnaus's advice, that "youth is the important period for forming a robust constitution," and that "nothing is to be dreaded so much as premature excess." The foundation of a happy old age is a good constitution in youth; temperance and moderation at that age are passports to happy grey hairs.

For such as have violated these precepts, then, this healing balm is suitable—complaints included in the vague appellation of Nervous and Consumptive, are those for which it is peculiarly adapted.

In offering this medicine to the public, I can say with confidence that they will find great benefit by using it in all diseases recommended, as I am tally acquainted with the medical qualities, as they have been discovered by myself, and are extracted from vegetables, and I can truly say, there is no earthly danger in using the medicine by any person, no matter how they may be afflicted. This medicine has been used by a ly danger in using the medicine by any person, no matter how they may be afflicted. This medicine has been used by a large number of persons, and have been cured of diseases of a long standing, when all other medicines have failed. n23

THE TRUTH WILL PREVAIL. CERTAIN DISEASES CURED.

THE TRUTH WILL PREVAIL.

CERTAIN DISEASES CURED.

Dr. Goodwill's Gonorrhæa and Gleet Detergent.

THE only infallible remedy ever discovered for Gonorrhæ and Gleets is now become too well known and established, in all parts of the Union, to require comment. Its universal success, which in no instance has ever failed, has warranted it to cure in forty-eight hours the most desperate and inflammatory cases of Gonorihæa, Gleets, and whites in all their stages, strictures, Seminal Weaknesses, pains in the loins, irritation of the Uretura from Gravel, as well as chronic affections of the urinary bladder and kidneys, if ever so violent or of long standing. This safe and only infallible remedy is an agreeable liquid, and its effects long on the constitution, (being composed of Sarsaparilla and the choicest of preparations) that while it restores the system, its superiority over every other kind of medicine only requires a limited trial to know its efficacy. Every person that has made use of this medicine has been his own physician, and secrecy has been secured—having proved effectual in almost two thousand cases, and never to our knowledge failed in any instance. The vast and increasing sale from the recommendations of the highest medical characters as well as those who have experi-LOCKE would respectfully invite the attention of the above, as these Balances contain several useful improvements over any other scale of the kind now in use, and for both accuracy and convenience are not surpassed by any. They have given entire satisfaction to those who have perchased, used and tested them. They are manufactured in the best manner, by experienced workmen, and warranted.

Purchasers will have the privilege of returning them after giving them a fair trial, it not satisfied with them. In introducing the above scales to the notice of the public, the subscriber would say, that it is with entire confidence that he will be able to meet the wishes and expectations of those who may favor him with their custom.

Please call and examine them at the mannfactory No 8 Fulton st, (near the corner, rear of Commercial street, Boston, where may be found, also, a good assortment of the Dearborn Patent Balances, Scale Beams, and most other kinds of weighing apparatus in use, for sale wholesale or retail, on the most liberal terms.

To the Public.—Anaereon poets, the lower poets, the lower poets.

Orthe Public.—Anacreon, the prince of ancient poets, the lover and the eulogist of the ladies, never forgot, in his odes, to mentiod of the teeth of pearl.

Ovid never for one moment lost sight of the "balmy breath" of his ladies, and his earnest recommendation to both sees was ever to "keep your teeth clean, and your breath sweet." The ancients had the means of doing so. Anacreon's beauties were as noted for their flowing zones and their eyes of fire, as for their teeth of pearl and their breath of balm.

Ovid, who has taught us how to love and be loved, laid more stress upon the teeth and breath, than any other point—and verily these precepts are worthy of our practice.

How many matches have been broken off—how many amantes separated—how much misery caused by the single fault of a bad breath.
